The Natural Bridge
Author: Katey McCready

The Natural Bridge is a bridge made out of rocks. It was originally a wall of rocks until the granite rock started to wear away, leaving a Natural Bridge. It is very dangerous to walk across it because there is water below the bridge that can spray up and sweep you into the ocean. You could lose your balance and fall off. But the fantastic view makes everyone want to keep visiting.

Across from the Natural Bridge is The Gap. The Gap is an eye-catching granite channel carved by the waves of ocean crashing against the rock. It is a spectacular drop of almost twenty-five metres. Sometimes the gap spray can get into the car park- so be careful! Recently, The Gap and Natural Bridge have been improved. The Gap lookout has been extended so if you look down the ocean would be right under you and if the swell is big the water might just spray you!

The Natural Bridge and the gap can be found off Frenchman Bay Road, in Torndirrup National Park, Albany.

Big hero 6 is a movie about a boy called Hiro whose brother called Tadashi died. Before he died he made a cool robot called Baymax who can be a robot doctor!

Baymax is helping Hiro to find out who killed Tadashi. They later find that the person who killed him has replicated Microbots (an invention that Hiro made) which he then uses to try to kill Hiro and his friends.

They decide that the only way to stop the evil guy is to make super suits that can do super things! They think that the evil person is Kraig, a famous scientist. It is really Dr Callaghan, another famous scientist who is angry at Kraig for sending his daughter into an alternate dimension. Hiro rescues her but Baymax sacrifices himself to save her.

But …it’s okay, because Hiro makes a new Baymax. and then there’s the song…

“Gangsta Granny” is a book by David Walliams. (One of his literation titles.) In it, a boy called Ben thinks his granny is boring, but she has a “secret”, she is an international jewel thief!!!!!!! All those “jewels” in the biscuit tin, Ben thought Granny must be rich!!!!! But why does she live in this bungalow????????

Granny asked Ben to go get the biscuit tin from the shelf. It felt heavier than last week. She told the stories of the order she stole them in, where she stole them from and the story of after the theft. Ben thought of a plan to steal the crown jewels. At first, Granny said N-O spells NO!!!!!!! But Ben convinced her.

So one night they went to the tower of London. In the Jewel house, they met the Queen. She told them she went there to think sometimes, this time to think about her Christmas Speech. So Ben and Granny did NOT steal the crown jewels.

At the break of dawn, MILLIONS of police officers turned up at granny’s place. HALF THE POLICE IN THE COUNTRY were called out to arrest Granny and Ben. But they were not arrested, they were set free 😊

Mr Parker, Granny’s nosey neighbour, thought they stole the crown jewels, when they did not.

After that, Granny explained that she had cancer. 😘 Will she survive???????? You will have to read the book to find out!

Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets

Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets is another Harry Potter book/movie. Harry’s Uncle Vernon, Aunt Petunia and Dudley, were still not very nice to him, but at least he now has a bedroom. He was called downstairs to revise the plan for Uncle Vernon’s career. Harry would be up in his room pretending he didn’t exist.

It turned out to be a catastrophe!!!!!!! Dobby, a house elf, made a nightmare for the family! So the next day, Uncle Vernon put bars on his window.

That night, a FLYING car came with Ron, George and Fred and Wesley to rescue Harry from the Dursleys and take him to school, at Hogwarts.

In the morning they arrived at the Wesley’s house, and their mother was furious!!!

When they got to the train station they could not go through the wall to the Hogwarts Express station (9 and 3 quarters.) So they can’t go to Hogwarts. Will they get to school??? Find out by reading the book…
Mr Stink is a homeless man whom was once the Lord of Darlington. A girl called Chloe met Mr Stink at the park after school, and after the school bully threw a banana peel at him through the open tram window and hit him on the back of the head.

Chloe’s mother wanted all homeless people off the streets as part of her political speech. She was running for parliament of the U.K.

Mr Stink lived in Chloe’s shed for a while, then in their house, then on the streets again, sadly. I would recommend it for ages 4+ There is also a movie which I would recommend for ages 6+

Minecraft Review

The game, “Minecraft” was created by Markus Person. His Minecraft name is Notch. He has a brother whose Minecraft name is Herobrine, but that is just a myth.

Minecraft was created in 2009. Mojang was the first company to release Minecraft, then 4j studios. 4j studios made the console edition. Mojang made the PC edition and the pocket Edition.

In Minecraft, EVERYTHING is made out of 3-D cubes, fences, flowers and stairs.

Today, Minecraft is a big hit and almost 50 YouTube channels play and review the game. It is played in 12 countries.
All sorts of people are still making mods for PC edition today.

This is a diamond pickaxe

These are some mobs. They only come out at night in easy, normal, and hard. Some mobs catch fire during the day. Zombies and Skeletons do this. Mobs like Endermen, Creepers, Spiders and Spider-Jockeys stay out during the day. In mods, mobs can be introduced in download. Such as ‘Weird Mobs’.

I hope you enjoyed this Minecraft review. Go and download the game and let your imagination run wild!!!!!

Hi, my name’s Samantha.
I’m a bit shy so that’s why I decided to start a Diary. I live in an abandoned land because of a tsunami that hit 10 years ago. I’ll tell you about it later but first I need to find some food…

Hello again. Well where was I. Ah yes, so the tsunami.

I was living in a beautiful town called Horse town. It Had so many horses (coincidence) it had a whole building full of horses. Both my mother and father worked as teachers and my big sister was just moving out before the tsunami. I never knew what happened to Emily (my sister) but I hope she got away in time. I don’t think my parents made it though.

I was playing with my best friend, Sophie in the horse building when I heard a startling cry. “Samantha! Are you in there?!?” It sounded like Chloe. I was a bit worried because of the way she yelled.
It was sort of a nervous voice. I ran outside but there was no one there. “Chloe? Is that you?” I yelled. Complete silence. Then I heard another sound. “Aghhhhhhhhh!” I rushed inside and sure enough there at the top of the stairs was Sophie, staring at a horse I had never seen before but I had no idea why Sophie screamed because the horse wasn’t scary in any way. “Aghhhhh! I-It spoke!” screamed Sophie.
“Don’t be stupid. Of course it didn’t.”
“Believe your friend. I did talk.” Said the horse.
“Aghhhhhhh!” I screamed.
“What do you want?”
“I decided to inform you that there is a big tsunami coming.”
Replied the horse.
“But since you are being so rude I will not.” said the horse.
He walked away to play with some of his horse friends.
“What’s a tsunami?” asked Sophie.
“A tsunami is a big wave that wipes out a lot of people.” I replied
So we ran all the way home.

“Mum! Where are you!”
She had already left home. Someone else must have warned her.
I was so confused because I thought mum had died but here she is now sitting next to me along with my dad who I am also sitting next to right now. At the start of the story I said that they were dead just to make you sad but then I felt bad about it so I told you the truth.

Anyway, so I ran around the house looking for my family but I couldn’t find anyone. I ran back outside and heard a big rumble. It sounded like the horses had gotten out. I was right. All the horses had been set free by someone or something. They were running as fast as they could because of the massive wave that was chasing them all toward the town hall. My mouth dropped, I was frozen in fear I couldn’t move but I had the sudden urge to get away from the tsunami and tell everyone that the tsunami was coming. I darted to the town hall, faster than I’d ever run. It was pretty scary, considering I was only nine years old, but I dealt with it pretty well. When I got there I couldn’t find anyone. It’s like everyone already knew that the tsunami was coming. But how? I thought the horse only warned us. I ran to Sophie’s house and banged on the door has hard as I could. Sophie answered the door. “Everyone’s gone!” she whined. “Couldn’t our parents have picked us up first?”

“Yes, that would have been appropriate but we don’t have time to whinge. We must get to the next town!” I replied in a heroic voice. “Let’s get out of here!” we both screamed together.

We ran as fast as we could all the way to the petrol station. But still no one was to be found. We ran inside because we were hungry. We stole a few chocolates and the alarm went off. “Agggggghhhhhhhhh! I don’t want to go to jail!” screamed Sophie.

“We aren’t going to get arrested.” I said “There’s no one in the town.” (By the way, if you’re wondering why we are stopping at the petrol station, for food, while a highly dangerous tsunami is coming it is because it is being slow while coming up the giant hill.) Any way We kept running as fast as we could. We came to the Johnston River. “We have to go down the waterfall.” I said. So we jumped. I couldn’t hear Sophie screaming but I knew she was. My ears were ringing because of the high pitch crying sound she had made before. We landed in the water. I was so happy we had landed safely.

I looked up and there standing on the edge of the river was my parents. I couldn’t believe what I was seeing. But then a massive rumble. We all ran for our lives. And the tsunami went right in the river and just kept flowing.

That’s how we ended up here. I still have a family and a new sister (who used to be my best friend.) I hope I can tell you another story sometime but right now I have to eat. Good bye.

The Magic Island

Long ago, a young man named Tom was on a tropical, deserted island with no one at all. He was the only survivor from the latest ship wreck. The ship sank 2 days ago and Tom was still finding it hard to survive.

The next day, Tom was walking along the coast of the island taking in the smells of the salty water lake when he heard rustling in the bush. ‘Who’s there?’ Tom yelled. Tom started to chase the rustling in the bush. He ran through the bush desperately trying to chase this thing. Tom kept running until he reached the end of the island. He stopped to take a breath when he heard a voice. ‘Hallo’ What was that?, Tom thought. Tom decided to not chase the voice and make his way through the bush and back to his hut on the beach. Tom went to bed without dinner but he could sleep because he was thinking about the voice that he heard on the beach. Finally Tom fell asleep. When he woke up he was face to face with a jokers face. ‘Arrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrr’ Tom screamed and screamed, He also poked himself because he thought it was a dream, but it was not. The scary looking joker lifted Tom off the ground and stood him up. The joker said in an exited voice ‘I will grant you 3 wishes. They cannot be people or any rubbish like that, it has to be a thing. Tom thought very hard until he came to his final decision ‘I am going to get a knife, a tent and a little raft.’

‘OK’ the joker replied. And with a click of his fingers the raft, a fishing rod, and a knife appeared right next to him. Tom could not say thank you because the joker was gone so fast. He felt bad leaving the Joker without saying anything, except what he wanted to the joker.

After that big piece of luck, Tom got on his boat and paddled himself about 100metres out when a storm came raging in. Big waves crashed on the boat, lightning and thunder bashed into the ocean. The only thing Tom could do was hide under the boats cover and pray. The waves kept crashing but somehow the boat didn’t break. The smell of the salt dwelled with the sound of the soaring wind blowing against the boat.

One day later the waves had calmed down a little bit, so Tom pulled out his fishing rod that the joker gave him. After a few minutes he had hooked something he slowly started pulling it in. Finally Tom had got the fish on the boat. It was ginormous salmon. Tom got its head off so it was kind of edible. At night time Tom ate one quarter of the fish and saved the rest for another time. In the morning Tom was now thirsty! What on earth was he going to do- no water and he was way too unhealthy. Tom suddenly fell asleep, was he dead????

12 hours later Tom woke up, but he was not on his boat he was on whales back and jumping through the ocean smoothly. Tom was scared, amazed and mind blown but most of all curious. Where was he going, why was he on a whales back and why is he breathing under water? Minutes later he was dropped by the whale and he was by himself in the cold blue ocean. Tom swam up and up, Tom could hear noises of shouting and laughing. Where was he? Tom reached the top of the ocean he saw a huge bridge, an opera house and thousands of people.

Tom was in Sydney!!
One day, Silly Strawberry and Angry Apple woke up from a good night sleep, when…. Angry Apple’s wife Young Joanna was missing from their home in the Swiss Alps. Strawberry and Apple rolled up and down the mountains to find Joanna, until they came to the Big Lake. But the two of them kept swimming and swimming into the cold, smooth lake until they were so sore and tired they swam to the edge and fell asleep. When they got up they just kept on swimming until they came to a huge castle, about 6 stories tall and with a marvellous garden with a great entrance.

‘STOP, what brings you here’ shouted the guard. ‘We are here to find and retrieve Joanna’. Said Angry Apple

So the guard walked with the Apple and Strawberry, into the princess’s room where they found Young Joanna. Joanna looked happier than ever. Strawberry got in a lengthy conversation with Strawberry, until Joanna ordered Strawberry and Apple over onto his plate. Strawberry and Apple came on top of the table and on his plate as she said, and with one big bite Joanna ate them both up!

Hello and welcome to Groove news, we have had a disaster occur in Albany, WA, when a new soft drink was released called VB, standing for Very Bad. News reporters have called it ‘Diabetes in a can’ since it has 350 tea spoons of sugar and lots of fat. “I can’t believe they released this evil virus on our town.” Said Gregory Hinton, after the tragic incident of his son being raced to hospital because he drank a tiny bit of VB. “VB is so toxic that it melted a hole in his tongue”, said Nurse Jessica McAlister after a very serious operation. This product is now banned from all stores in Albany and hopefully never seen again.

Man Drops Pen

Hello and welcome back to the Groove news. This week we have a sad report of when Bob Jeffries knocked his pen off the side of his work desk at Jeffries INC. This all started when, at 8:33am, Mr Jeffries reached out for his cup of coffee and knocked his pen off the side of his desk with his elbow. Then he went into a stress fit and didn’t know what to do, but after about 12.3 seconds he came to a decision of jumping out the window of the 5th floor shouting “You’ll never catch me alive!”

All the other workers stressed and evacuated the building. “I was in an 8 meter radius of the pen when ‘it’ happened.” said Jamie Schweinsteiger. Once all the workers were outside the building, Kathy Adverserson called the military service which arrived immediately. Then the military service sent in a bomb disarming robot to receive the pen and burn it. The bomb disarming robot unfortunately did not achieve that after it broke down on the 2nd floor. The military service sent in another robot that did way better but unfortunately self-destructed because of all the pressure and blew up the whole building.

In Little Grove’s first game this season playing on the new pitches they versed ACC Southlands with Jack Day captaining and Mya Oreo in vice-captain. In the second half of the first half the play opened up for Little Grove as Henry and Noah scored once more to make the score line four nil at half time. In the second half Little Grove dominated play but couldn’t score, later in the half ACC Southlands struck back with a cheeky chip over the goalkeeper’s head. Little Grove continued their unbeaten run as they won 7-0.

Round 6 under 12’s Game Review vs. St Josephs:
As Little Grove versed St Josephs there was a bit of sledging going on before the game between the players and with the St Josephs coach. Noah Sheehy was captain and Cameron Lea was vice-captain. The game started off evenly matched between the two teams but Little Grove scored a goal that sparked controversy for the offside rule but Noah Sheehy kept his cool and struck the ball into the back of the net. In the second half it was deeply dominated by Little Grove as Henry Goldsmith netted two more goals and Jack Day added another goal to his tally. In the end of the game Little Grove won 4-0, extended their winning run to four games and kept their top of the table position intact.

Round 7 under 12’s Game Review vs. G.S.Grammar

Community Outdoor Classroom,
Bush Tucker Garden and Nature Play Area Project.

Written by Mr Martin

As part of Little Grove Primary School’s Business Plan 2016-2018 in the focus area of Sustainable Learning Environment, we are planning to construct in stages an outdoor classroom/cultural learning centre, nature play area and bush tucker garden. This will be located on the northern side of our basketball courts/play cave, adjacent to the school oval. Thanks to one of our parents, Dana Neumann, who is a landscape Architect, we have preliminary designs for this project. Using P&C fundraising and future grant money, we plan on constructing this in stages over the next 3 to 5 years. This space is intended to be a multipurpose school and community space where families can access it freely after school or on weekends for play, picnics, cultural learning and community or family events. It will be used in school time for outdoor learning in Science, Maths, Aboriginal Education, nature play and integrated into our Stephanie Alexander Kitchen Garden program.

This project is divided into three main stages. The first stage closest to the school will be a nature play area based on a rocky creek bed, where you use hand pumps and levers to control the flow of water along a rocky creek bed. Some rocks have already been sourced and are waiting near this area for placement. A timber decked path with bridge over this area to the outdoor learning space/classroom. This water course play area will be paved from river rocks, fallen logs and quarry cut Rock Mountains. This area will have two playground pumps situated at each end of the water course and a number of retaining weirs placed at intervals along the water course for children to manipulate the water flow. This area will also include mud play zones and native plantings with paperbark trees. Water play is an important play opportunity; it encourages team building and communication as well as helps children to learn about science and innovation.
The second stage or area will be an outdoor learning space / cultural learning centre. This will consist of a new shelter and raised deck area and will be an integral part of the bush tucker garden. This structure will enable teachers and educators to hold classes outdoors, covered in 3 sides by a simple structure and pergola over. This area will be used by the school for outdoor learning classes with information boards, whiteboard and bench seating for students. The information boards will provide information on native flora and fauna, aboriginal history and links to Princess Royal Harbour. This structure will overlook a Sandalwood, Quantong and Desert Lime tree orchard with seating and a lawn area linking into the school oval. On the most northern side of this area, will be the third stage or area, a bush tucker garden with a series of beds at different heights for the propagation of bush tucker plants. Surrounding these beds will be paved paths and sculptures or bush cubbies. This area will also link into existing or new earth or crushed limestone paths through the nature reserve adjoining the school were children and adults can wander along the paths to identify local/indigenous plants and animals using interpretive signage. The interpretive signs will have QR codes that people can use their mobile devices to scan and find out further information linked to the school’s website.

This project is very much designed to be a combined P&C/community/school project over a number of years utilising local businesses, community groups and the local area residents. The area will help promote and encourage indigenous culture, traditions and heritage along with opportunities for students to cultivate common bush foods to be used in the school’s existing Stephanie Alexander Kitchen Garden Program.

This new area is very much designed to be used all year round, in school time and after hours by the whole community. It will foster and encourage respect for our natural environment, preserving our indigenous flora and fauna, educating the community on using bush tucker foods, building respect and resilience through nature play and fostering community spirit with this highly utilised area.

Groovy Grover’s

We have a new groovy grover system this year. Each faction will receive extra play at lunch on Monday if they reach 100, 200, 300, 400, 500, 600, 700, 800 or 900 groovy grovers. When a faction reaches 1000 the whole faction will get a sausage sizzle. If you go up 100 groovy grovers every week you will get an extra play. If the faction reaches 2000 you will get a movie afternoon. When you get a day of fun activities. Towards the end of last year some groovy grover signs went up around the school demonstrating what the right thing to do is. In the junior and senior block there are three tubs; a blue, red and gold one. If you get a Groovy Grover remember to circle your faction and put it in the right coloured tub.

Centre 2
Centre two built a road out of bricks, houses out of blocks and play dough, built a pirate ship out of cardboard and used sticks for fishing rods. They have started doing brain gym for 15mins per day and have to be quiet and let their brains think. In literacy they have been reading “The Three Little Pigs”.

Room 2
Room two have been preparing and are ready to write a traditional Aboriginal story. They have been graphing their families and the most popular colour for teacher’s cars. In spelling Mr Corson has used the “sword of spelling” a couple of times.

Room 3
Room three have been learning about sea creatures and their habitats. They have made a 3D paper mashé. The year ones have been learning how to add while the year twos have been learning their times tables.
Room 5/6
Room five/six have read two David William books Mr Stink, Gangster Granny and watched the DVD, they are now reading Molly Moon. In science they have been learning about food chains. They have been practicing the art of relaxation and meditation.

Room 7
Room seven have been practicing lots of spelling and hand-writing. They have been to an aboriginal talk by ‘Wild Man’. Room seven have also been experimenting with pattern blocks in geometry.

Room 8
Room eight have been dissecting fish and cockle sampling in science. In poetry room eight have been learning how to write a concrete poem. They have also been practicing lots of hand-writing.

Room 10
Room ten have been learning about sustainability and have been focusing on reducing waste. In writing they have been learning about Aboriginal myths and the rainbow serpent. They have also been writing different types of poetry.

How to make a parachute
What will you need: plastic bag, scissors, string and a small object to way it down.

Instructions:
1. Cut out a large square from your plastic bag or material.
2. Trim the edges so it looks like an octagon.
3. Cut a small whole near the edge of each side.
4. Attach 8 pieces of string of the same length to each of the holes.
5. Tie the pieces of string to the object you are using as a weight.
6. Use a chair or find a high spot to drop your parachute and test how well it worked, remember that you want it to drop as slow as possible.

Invisible ink
What will you need: water, half a lemon, bowl, cotton bud, white paper and lamp.

Instructions:
1. Squeeze the lemon into a bowl and a few drops of water.
2. Mix the water and lemon juice with a spoon.
3. Dip the cotton bud into the mixture and write your message on the paper.
4. Wait for the juice to dry so you can’t see it.
5. When it is dry hold it up to the light to heat it up and show it to someone.

Tornado in a bottle
What will you need: Water, plastic bottle, Glitter Dish, washing liquid.

MIND TRICKS
(TO TRY AT HOME)

1. Nodding at the same time as you ask a question makes the person more likely to say yes.
2. When high-fiving, look at the person elbow and you’ll never miss.
3. If you have a song stuck in your head that you can’t get it out, think of the end of the song.
4. When you are arguing use silence to your to help you win the argument. Most people will be with silence and will often try and break it.
5. If you are playing a game with someone, ask them how they are playing so well.
6. If you want someone to mess up while counting. Start counting in a pattern instead of random so there brain caches onto the pattern.
7. Whisper something to someone and they are almost certain to answer.
8. Ask people to spell shop and then say it and then immediately ask what do you do at a green light
9. Look at the persons hair line while they talk to you and they will feel uncomfortable
Tsunamis

A tsunami is a giant wave that is caused by the tectonic plates clashing underwater causing an undersea earthquake. Another way for a tsunami to form is by a volcano on land or off land to erupt causing a tsunami to form. Once a tsunami forms it will head for anywhere possible within range once it hits a populated area for example Tokyo in Japan it will destroy anything in its path.

During the year 2004 a giant tsunami hit many different destinations like Sumatra in Indonesia. What is even more amazing about this wave of force it happened on Boxing Day and it was 100ft high (30 meters) and it occurred at 7:58am. Many other tsunamis have happened but not all volcanos cause tsunamis, inland volcanos don’t cause tsunamis.

Tornados

A tornado is a funnel that reaches from the ground to the cloud and violently absorbs most things in its path. Most tornados form in an area called tornado alley in America. In tornado alley the temperatures are perfect to cause a tornado at any second. A tornado is formed when warm, moist air reaches and meets cold dense air.

There’s a tornado called ‘Palm Sunday Tornado or PST’ It happened in six different places. Their names are Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Lowa in America. It was actually two or twin tornados both because they were formed at the same time.
